In response to continued demand, enrollment for the Summer 2026 offering is officially open. Capacity is capped at 20 seats to preserve the program's high-quality design. Reserve your spot while availability remains.

Part 1: July 6-10, 12:00pm – 4:30pm ET (ONLINE) | Part 2: July 20-24, 12:00pm – 4:30pm ET (ONLINE)

Opportunities in workplace mediation and workplace restoration are flourishing. This program will equip you with the tools you need to effectively meet the demand. Taken and recommended by dispute resolution and human resources leaders from diverse professional backgrounds within public and private sectors, this is by far our most popular program for good reasons! It is timely, incredibly interactive, and jam packed with information and resources that you can apply right away.

This program constitutes an advanced two-part seminar, covering workplace assessments and restorations. We take a look at workplaces from a broad and proactive perspective and provide you with two important workplace assessment models:

- ✓ Fairness Assessments; and
- ✓ Health Assessments

Instructor:

Blaine Donais

LLB, LLM, C. Med, Q. Arb, PHSA, WFA

Lawyer, mediator, arbitrator, investigator leading expert in workplace restoration and proactive approaches to workplace health.

[Even More Value Added!] In addition to the live synchronous seminars with instructions and feedback by industry expert, Blaine Donais, the Summer 2026 cohort will get a complimentary one-year subscription to the fully integrated Workplace Restoration and Workplace Fairness Online Learning Hubs, as well as enrolment into the WFI community of practice, to stay ahead of all workplace conflict management trends.

This program has evolved rapidly to consider a trauma-informed approach and an intersectionality lens to workplace restoration and assessments, containing even more resources from the main instructor and guest subject matter experts!

"I highly recommend this course! Blaine is an engaging teacher and facilitator, and he does not disappoint. The course is content rich with practical strategies and tactics that can be applied to your practice. In contrast to other courses I've taken where the learning has dropped off, I continue to use material from this course that I took in 2019. This is particularly true for the information on Workplace Restoration which is a growing area of my practice."

- Debbie Kassirer MSW, MBA, Q.Med, WFA
